Marshal Bazaine Condemned to Death.

VERSAILLES, Dec. 10—Lachaud, counsel for Marshal Bazaine, in his peroration said "I deeply sympathize with the valiant soldier who is overwhelmed by this terrible accusation. He does not fear death for he is brave and fears nothing but the loss of his honor for the sake of his wife and children. I feel most for France which will deplore the loss of a valorous soldier. Your Honors' patriotism forbids that you condemn him. You know what political trials are on the spot where posterity has raised statues to those executed after such trials." Pourcette replied demanding that a terrible example be made as a lesson to the rising generation. Before the Judges withdrew Bazaine said "I have two words in my breast—honor and country. I have never been wanting toward this proud motto during forty two years of service. I swear before Christ that I have not betrayed France."

After long deliberation the Judges declared Bazaine guilty of the charges of capitulation of Metz and of the army in the open field and unanimously condemned him to death and to be degraded from rank previous to execution. After judgment was rendered all members of the Court signed an appeal for mercy, which the Duc D'Aumale immediately conveyed in person to President McMahon. Bazaine was greatly agitated when he heard the decision of the Court.

PARIS, Dec 11—Soon after judgment was pronounced against Marshal Bazaine last evening, he requested his son be allowed to visit him in prison. He refused to avail himself of the right of appeal. MacMahon will to day decide upon the appeal for mercy.

The Feeling in Cuba.

HAVANA, Dec 10—The telegrams announcing the refusal of the United States to allow the Virginius to be delivered to a neutral power create dissatisfaction here, the impression for the last three days being that the U. S. Government would consent.

The Captain General of Porto Rico assembled the rectors of the different journals and requested them in view of the probability of war with the United States to drop party discussions and only occupy themselves with Spain and the means of raising public spirit so as to repulse foreign aggression if necessary. He also desired the journals to abstain from publishing anything which might hurt the susceptibilities of the fatherland and the Washington Government. In a proclamation the Captain General believes that amicable relations will remain uninterrupted between Spain and the United States.

THE VALUE OF WATER ALONG THE UNION PACIFIC ROAD.—The value of water which is used principally for bathing, washing clothes, sailing boats and to some extent for drinking purposes in this part of the country and which is as free as the air, is not properly appreciated among us. In Colorado it has been a staple value. The Greeley (Col.) Tribune, in answer to several colonization projects, says immigrants must not expect that they can at once become possessed of large and valuable farms. They can secure a vast acreage at comparatively small cost but cultivation is necessarily confined to a few acres where water rights are owned in common as with colonies. There are memberships in the Greeley Colony which can be bought but no water rights. Water to cover eighty acres during the whole season is said to be worth as much as $500. The sum of $180 has been paid for a share in water rights, this share furnishing not more than enough to water twenty acres. It is the opinion of the Tribune that a Colorado farm of forty acres will sell for $5,000 in ten years, if sure of water. In that section of the country water is more valuable than land.

The audience waited almost one hour but no lecturer put in an appearance. Finally a man came on the rostrum and said the money obtained by the sale of tickets would be refunded. The audience then dispersed without their money. A great crowd collected in front of the Hall and a posse of officers were required to drive the people away.

On the 28th of November Joseph White was acquitted in the County Court on a charge of stealing $500 in silver from A. Meyers, at the Tivoli House, on Tuesday last. White informed Chief Karcher that he had committed the robbery and planted the coin, and while in the county jail he had told Shearer, who agreed to help his acquittal and take half of the amount. On White's release he found Shearer had dug up the money and refused to divide, he therefore divulged the plot.

BENICIA, Dec. 11—Work has been suspended on the Narrow Gauge Railroad. Dissatisfaction on the part of many of the subscribers to the stock with the existing management kept payments in arrears, until finally matters came to a standstill. There was a meeting of the directors held at Sacramento, a few days since, when it was decided to pay up all liabilities and make the best possible adjustment of affairs to-day. All the tents and camp equipage were shipped to San Francisco, also the Chinamen, where they will be paid off and discharged. There is a new movement on foot to start a company, with a paid up capital sufficient to build and put the road in running condition to Vacaville, which having been done, the balance of the road is an assured success. There are strong indications that this movement will go and the prospect of having a railroad better than ever.

Edward Howard broke into a house to-night in the southern part of the city, was detected there, arrested and locked up on a charge of burglary.

No news of the China steamer Alaska yet.

Weather to night clear and cold.

The first meeting of the new Board of Police Commissioners was held this afternoon, but beyond the extending of the terms of a lot of special officers three months, no important business was transacted.

He was armed with a dagger, and stated that he was attacked by some unknown man to-night on Stewart street and resisted the assault till his antagonist got the advantage, when he drew the weapon and stabbed him two or three times. The fellow was found dangerously wounded, but his name is not known.

Interior California.

MISSION SAN JOSE, Dec 11—Last night about 7 o'clock a fire broke out in the stables of the Warm Springs, situated about two miles from here. The property is owned by Leland Stanford, and is at present occupied by his brother, Josiah Stanford. There were nine head of horses and one cow burned which were in the stable at the time. The hotel, which stands about thirty feet from the stable, caught fire several times and was only saved through the exertions of the employees at that place. The origin of the fire is unknown. Loss about $2,000.

SAN MATEO, Dec 11—A fatal accident occurred to John S Colegrove of this place. While crossing the railroad track near Redwood City he was thrown from his buggy under the cars and instantly killed. It appears that he had just crossed the track ahead of the freight train when his horse took fright and turning around quickly overturned the buggy, throwing him under the train. Mr Colegrove was an old resident of this place and owned Laurel Creek ranch. He was unmarried and about 54 years of age, and a native of Rhode Island.

VISALIA, Dec 11—At an early hour this morning burglars effected an entrance to Krafft's restaurant in this town and were about to commence operations on the safe when they encountered an old man named Grigsby sleeping close by the safe. A struggle ensued, in which Grigsby's head was split open with an ax, leaving his brains exposed, and his face terribly battered in with some weapon. After the assault they escaped, probably being alarmed. A Chinaman on entering the kitchen at 5 o'clock to commence work, found the old man senseless on the floor in a pool of blood. He was carried to the hospital and recovered sufficiently to describe his assailants but not enough to identify them, though several arrests have been made. No hopes are entertained of Grigsby's recovery. Much excitement is occasioned by this outrage following so closely on the murder of a Mexican a few days since, and attempts are being made to form a vigilance committee for the purpose of meting out swifter and surer justice than can be secured by the courts. It is quite probable that before many hours this place will follow the example of Gilroy and forcibly purge itself of the loose and dangerous characters now flocking to town.

ARIZONA.

SAN DIEGO, Dec 11—The Union's Arizona special dated Tucson, December 11th, says heavy storms have prevailed in Eastern Arizona and the snow is deep in the mountains. There is no snow about Tucson, only on mountain peaks within sight which are covered. A heavy rain fell last night.

BY STATE TELEGRAPH.

Fire at Albany.

ALBANY, Oregon, Dec. 11—This morning about twelve thirty o'clock a fire was discovered in the office of the State Rights Democrat in Froman's large two story brick building. The fire originated in an ash box sitting on the floor, the coals in which set the floor on fire and burned through it, the pieces falling on a clerk by the name of Barnhart, who was sleeping in the store of Sanders & Sternberg. The clerk immediately gave the alarm and the fire department was on the ground with their usual promptness and soon succeeded in subduing the flames. Had no one been sleeping in the store the whole building would have gone, burning out two stores, the postoffice and Western Union Telegraph office. The losses are estimated as follows: Mart V. Brown on printing office $800. Sanders & Sternberg $1,000. The damage was more from water than from the fire. Froman, owner of the building, $400, which is fully covered by insurance.

Work on the Albany and Santiam Canal is being pushed forward vigorously. They are now at work on the two branches in the lower and upper part of town with a large force of men.

The weather is clear and cold.

REMARKABLE SURGICAL CASE.—Boston papers record the case of a boy named John Smith, about sixteen years of age, whose parents reside in Canton, Mass., and who lost his sense of hearing about two years ago and finally his reason, and was placed in the Institution for Idiotic and Feeble-minded Youth at South Boston. A few weeks since it was learned that when about seven years of age he had put some pebble stones in his ears while at play and that these had never been withdrawn, and acting upon this clue a woman doctor began experiments. A syringe was at first applied and then a probe. At last the probe produced a grating sound and further efforts revealed a number of small pebbles lying deep in the ear beneath the skin. One of them, about the size of a pin's head, was first got out, then another, and another, until by successive repetitions of the experiment no less than twenty nine small pebbles were removed from the sufferer's head. All this was done without starting a drop of blood or causing any distress to the patient. It is believed now that the boy will regain his reason.

A QUEER OFFER.—Somebody, who signs himself G T P, has written a letter from Westmoreland County, Penn., to the Mayor of Philadelphia, in which, in view of the approach of the season for destitution, he proposes to furnish coal for all the poor of the city and for the steam fire engines for the present time and during this and the next century, the only expense being that of transportation, which will be about three cents per bushel. This payment he offers to take in installments, one being payable every ten years. He says that about seventeen years ago he purchased for almost nothing a tract of land in Westmoreland county which has since turned out to be filled with bituminous coal, and if the terms which he offers to dispose of this coal are acceptable he will send his full name and address to his Honor.

PENNSYLVANIA CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.—In the Superior Court to day, says a Philadelphia dispatch of the 5th inst., Judge Agnew delivered an opinion in which all the Judges [illegible] restraining the Election Commissioners appointed by the Constitutional Convention from acting. The decision is to the effect that the Constitutional Convention had not the power it had attempted to assert and that it had been guilty of an act of attempted usurpation in setting aside the election system prescribed for this city and inaugurating a new one under which the election for the adoption or the rejection of the Constitution should be conducted.

PROGRESS IN JAPAN.—The Japan Gazette has an article on the physical condition of the leading men of the Empire, in which in regretful words it urges them to pay special attention to the laws of health. Few if any of the home officials are robust men and all the members of the late embassy have suffered severely from the long strain upon brain and gastric nerves.

Two evidences of the coming civilization in Japan are these: boat racing has been introduced and the leading newspapers are fighting like its analogues over the extent of their circulation and influence.

A letter from Oregon City states that skating is the principal amusement at that place and doctoring for colds the principal business.

OREGON.

Albany has good skating but no sleighing worth mention.

The schools of Salem, out of respect to the memory of Rev Gustavus Hines, held no exercises on Thursday of this week.

We regret to learn that Hon Henry Warren of the Land Office at Oregon City is lying quite ill at his residence in that town. We trust he may soon recover.

Mr W. H. Dodd has been appointed agent for Wells Fargo & Co for Albany. He entered upon the duties of the office on Monday last. Mr Dodd is an employe of the Express Company.

From Wednesday's Statesman: The steamer Success arrived about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, bringing a small quantity of miscellaneous freight. After discharging this at the warehouse she then proceeded to the mill where she took on seventy tons of flour for Portland. The Orient is expected up to-day.

The exercises of the graduating class of Pacific University, for the first term came off last Wednesday evening at the Congregational church, in Forest Grove. Orations and essays were the order of the evening. The Independent says: "These exercises have always been very popular at the Grove, the people being proud of the students who work their way through the college and sympathizing with them in their struggles for a higher education."

Colin T. Finlayson, of Linn county, died at the Dalles on the 8th inst. of consumption. He was a graduate of Wallamet University and afterward filled the Chair of Mathematics at the Albany Collegiate Institute, giving the fullest satisfaction. In the science of mathematics he had few equals. A pamphlet published by him a few years ago, entitled "True Philosophy of the Tides," gained for him a wide reputation both in the United States and the Old World, attracting the attention of the first scientists of both countries. In later years as an inventor he projected a "Submerged Wheel" for propelling ocean and river steamers, which is thought by competent judges who have examined the invention will revolutionize eventually the system of propelling boats. He leaves two children and a large circle of friends to mourn his loss. Peace to his ashes.

BISHOP CUMMINS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The community at large seem much interested in the case of Bishop Cummins, and as you have already given your readers some knowledge of the case, I think you will do them a service by publishing the following card taken from a Philadelphia paper of November 2d. I will not trespass further upon your kindness than to say that the names appended to this card are those of the most prominent and influential clergymen of Philadelphia, known commonly as "Evangelical" or "Low Church." Truly yours, C.

A CARD.

The undersigned having heard with profound sorrow of the movement now making by Bishop Cummins, for the organization of a new church on the basis of the prayer book of 1857, desire to say that they have no sympathy with this measure and that it does not represent the views and feeling of Evangelical men.

William Suddards, Benjamin Watson, James Platt, Richard N. Thomas, Daniel S. Miller, William W. Spear, William Newton, J. H. Eccleston, Robert A. Edwards, Herman J. Duhring, Richard Newton, C. LONDON PRESS ON GRANT'S MESSAGE.

The Times of Dec 5th in a leader on President Grant's Message says:

"The excessive privileges in regard to freedom from search claimed for vessels bearing the American flag would confer immunity on an open pirate. Such pretensions are indeed shortsighted for a mercantile nation. We cannot for a moment believe that Congress will adopt the suggestion to prohibit National Banks from paying interest on deposits. We do not agree with the President's financial views generally and think he is wrong in attributing the recent troubles to the peculiar character of the currency. The advice to return to specie payments would be more satisfactory if the President told the country how to do it."

The article praises the Message for its moderation of tone in general, and on the Cuban question in particular. It says England will unreservedly support a policy which requires that Spain must really as well as nominally control Cuba.

The Daily News says the President's language concerning the Virginius affair is moderate and dignified.

The Daily Telegraph sees in the demand for the abolition of slavery in Cuba a menace which will greatly increase the difficulties of Castelar's situation.

The Standard thinks the only result of the threats against Spain will be to hinder the adjustment of difficulties.

THE GLOUCESTER MASS. FISHING INTEREST.—The following appears under a Gloucester, Mass., date of Nov. 24th: The arrival of fishing vessels at this port for the year ending Nov 15th were as follows: Four hundred and sixty-three fares from the Grand Banks and 7[illegible] fares from George's Banks, making a total of 1,230 bank fares, landing about 800,000 quintals of codfish and halibut; also 1,400 mackerel fares, landing 75,000 barrels; also sixty five fares of herring. About 6,000 barrels of oil, or 2[illegible],000 gallons, were brought in by these vessels. These figures are enormous in amount and show most conclusively the position that Gloucester occupies as a great mart of the fisheries.

FATHER SECCHI.—It will be gratifying to all students of physical science to learn that Father Secchi, the famous Roman astronomer, was retained at his post in the Jesuit College after it was taken possession of by the Italian government. It is said that he was especially entreated by the government to remain in the position he had so creditably filled, and that after conferring with Antonelli on the subject and protesting against the occupation by the Italian government of an observatory which he declared belonged to the Vatican, he finally consented to remain. His salary continues the same as it was formerly, but will hereafter be paid to him by Victor Emanuel.

A farmer gives his bit of advice which contains a good hint: "If you want the boys to stay on the farm do not bear on too hard when the boy is turning the grindstone."

THE TERRITORIES.

The total number of interments made by the city sexton of Salt Lake last month was 40—18 males and 22 females.

We presume that the railroad track has been completed to Tacoma unless cold weather or other circumstances have stopped the work.

On December 2d five cars were run off the track near Tenino by some cows which were lying in the road. Fortunately the passenger coach was uninjured.

Gen Denver, for whom the town of Denver (Colorado) was named, will visit that place next summer on an invitation from the citizens. He has never been there.

The Salt Lake Tribune has this among its Personals: "It is understood that Brigham has gone down to St George to get married, and George A. accompanies him to lard the [illegible], the crops looking rather poorly down there."

Rev O. P. Brewer, of Eastern Oregon and Washington Conference, has been appointed as Farmer in charge on the Chehalis Indian Reservation; also Rev. Dr J. W. Turner, of the Oregon Conference, has been appointed to the same Reservation as Physician.

A gentleman informs the Golden (Colorado) Globe that there are a million tons of hay stacked between [illegible] and Green city, rendered almost worthless because of no means of getting to market. He says that it could nearly all be bought at two dollars per ton. In Golden and the mountains hay is worth one and one quarter cents per pound.

The Salt Lake Tribune says: "If Brother Stratton's audiences continue to increase as they have been doing he will soon have to hire the Tabernacle to find room for his eager listeners. He is pouring hot shot into the Mormon Church, and what gives weight to his discourses is the solid facts with which they are charged. If abuse would carry conviction the Mormon preachers and their obsequious newspaper organs would carry all before them, but this preacher studiously avoids vituperation, and depends upon sound logic for his ammunition."

There was some high wind at Georgetown, Colorado, and in that vicinity recently. The Miner tells of haps and mishaps as follows: "Down the valley below town telegraph poles were prostrated, and the wind appears to have concentrated its forces and swept across the depressions in the mountains with extraordinary force. A gentleman coming over from Central in a buggy had to walk into town, a zephyr having picked up the buggy and danced with it into the creek. Another gentleman, who was coming up the valley on horseback, was struck by a gust, and the next thing he knew he was standing on the ground holding a bridle in his hand and the horse was out of sight. The way one person related the incident to us is that the rider found himself sitting astride the saddle holding to the reins—the horse having been blown from under him. As the stage tried to run the gauntlet of the breezes at about the same point the leaders were unable to keep the road, and Mr Bullock, who was a passenger aboard, jumped off and caught them in time to prevent a capsize. The lead horses were then taken off and a couple of the passengers rode them up and the coach made the riffle without accident."

DEATH FROM FRIGHT.—The singular circumstances connected with the death of the wife of Thomas Ferguson, of Cleveland, Ohio, on Thursday last, are thus narrated by the Herald of that city: "About 7 o'clock Wednesday morning Mrs Ferguson went to the house of her brother-in-law near by on an errand. Coming out of the house to return home, she was followed by a small pet dog belonging to her brother-in-law. One of the dog killers employed by the city was making a crusade in that neighborhood, and catching sight of this little animal made for it. Mrs Ferguson called the dog to her, in order to save him from the slayer. The latter, who was but a few paces from her, raised his gun and aimed at the dog beside her. The woman saw the weapon pointed, as it seemed to her, directly toward her, and supposing it would be discharged, she screamed with fright and ran home. On entering the house she sank upon the floor pale and trembling violently. She was barely able to tell her husband the cause of her fright, and soon afterward was seized with severe convulsions. These continued throughout that and the following day. In spite of all that medical skill could do she sank rapidly and died between 4 and 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The deceased was 21 years of age and had been married five months. She had been in good health, and no other cause than that given above can be assigned for her death. We could not learn the name of the man whose criminal carelessness, in his greed to obtain the paltry sum paid for killing dogs, caused this sad bereavement. He was violating the dog ordinance, which provides that all shooting of dogs must be done before the hour of 6 o'clock in the morning, for the express purpose of avoiding the danger to persons on the street."

QUEEN ELIZABETH.—The briefest and probably best description of the personal appearance of Queen Elizabeth ever printed was written by a German traveler, Hentzner, who saw her at Greenwich on a Sunday as she was entering church. "She was said (rumor erat) to be fifty-five years old. Her face was rather long, white, and somewhat wrinkled, her eyes small, black and gracious, her nose somewhat bent, her lips compressed, her teeth black (from eating too much sugar). She had ear rings of pearl, red hair, but artificial, and wore a small crown. Her breast was uncovered (as is the case with all unmarried ladies in England) and round her neck was a chain with precious gems. Her hands were graceful, her fingers long. She was of middle size, but stepped on majestically. She was gracious and kind in her address. The dress she wore was of white silk, with pearls as large as beans. Her cloak was of black silk, with silver lace, and a long train was carried by a marchioness. As she walked along she spoke most kindly with many people, some of them embassadors. She spoke English, French, and Italian, but she knows also Greek and Latin, and understands Spanish, Scotch and Dutch. When she came to the door of the chapel books were handed to her and the people called out, 'God save the Queen Elizabeth!' whereupon the queen answered, 'I thank you, my good people.' Prayers did not last more than half an hour and the music was excellent."

We are indebted to Mr G. A. Fredsill, of Albany, for the following particulars of the fire which occurred at that place last Wednesday night between midnight and 1 o'clock. The fire is supposed to have caught from a box of ashes in the Democrat office, in which live coals had been left. It burned through the floor of the office, making a hole between two joists, about 18 inches wide and 2½ feet long, and falling through into a store beneath was discovered by a boy who was sleeping in the store. Considerable material in the Democrat office was destroyed or injured, though all the presses were saved. The paper on hand was spoiled by water. The Masonic Hall is only separated from the office by a wooden partition, which was also damaged slightly by water. The most extensive damage was to the store below the office owned by Messrs. Sternberg & Co., whose loss amounts to about $1,000. Mr Brown, of the Democrat, loses $700. Mr Froman's brick building was probably damaged $200. Mr Brown, we believe, was fully insured. The Albany firemen showed the disposition of their craft, and their efforts were doubtless the means of preventing a fearful conflagration.

Jennings' article in the December Atlantic on Disraeli puts the case well before him and preserves some of his good hits at his opponents, as his remarks about the Marquis of Salisbury's "power of spontaneous aversion," a phrase as good as that occurring in the obituary of a famous Bostonian, who was spoken of as a "gentleman of the most cultivated distaste."

FRIDAY MORNING DECEMBER 12 1873

A MERITED TESTIMONIAL

When Attorney General Williams placed himself between a gang of bribed repeaters and an outraged law in order to procure a vote in the Senate for a position which he coveted he did not stop to think that his infamous act might rebound upon himself There were sufficient motives to restrain him from the commission of this shameful deed Not the least of these was common gratitude to the State which had honored and assisted him to the proud position he now fills We may be permitted to refer also to the long and intimate friendship which has existed between the Attorney General and Gov Gibbs Mr Williams knows Gov Gibbs as the people of Oregon know him as an upright, conscientious gentleman of high standing and undoubted ability It was a grievous wrong to an old friend and a faithful officer—this attempt to degrade and dishonor a public officer, who in the fulfillment of his sworn duties found himself compelled to prosecute criminals whose connection with men high in official station was undoubted—yet who never shrank from a courageous performance of that duty Then there was Mr Williams' sacred oath of office by which he swore to support the Constitution and the laws. Upon the unworthy plea of "extraordinary proceeding and expense" he bases his censure and procures the removal of an official whose fidelity in the discharge of important public trusts has never been impeached What then, are these high crimes against the peace and dignity of a commonwealth, these iniquitous outrages upon citizenship whose enormities have shocked the State from Baker to Jackson to be winked at by the Department of Justice and are the criminals to be sheltered—aye, encouraged—by a man who aspires to the spotless ermine of the Supreme Bench? Are the machinations and foul schemings of a ring of professional thieves and debauched office holders forever to triumph over honesty and law? Are our courts of justice to be known in all time as instruments in the hands of wicked men for the punishment of incorruptible officers and the protection of crimes and criminals? Is the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court to be a man so easily manipulated by a professional seducer, that wife-beater and adulterer? If the repeater in Oregon find shelter under the broad authority of the Attorney-General what enormities may not take refuge beneath the robes of the Judge?

These questions are being asked and answered to-day in Oregon, There exists grave cause for apprehending that some of the men who are charged with corrupt practices and illegal voting, by the last United States Grand Jury, will after all, be released without punishment And in the indignation which all good citizens feel at this prospective compounding with crime public sentiment naturally enough turns to the support of the faithful public servant whose attempted disgrace is the administration's sole reward for fidelity to trust This sympathy for Gov Gibbs is universal, and it finds expression even among members of the ring whose allegiance to their masters is bounded by their salaries Among the better classes of our citizens there is a determination to give utterance to this feeling in some effectual form

The Grand Jurors who recently sat in this city and who found nine bills of indictment against the repeaters and bribers on the same evidence which was offered to the first Grand Jury, have tendered to Governor Gibbs, the District Attorney who has just been removed, the following testimonial

PORTLAND Dec 10th 1873

We are of the opinion that U S Attorney A C Gibbs was justified in sending his dispatch of December 1st to Attorney General Williams so far as it relates to the extent of bribery and repeating As to the balance we have no knowledge

This testimonial is signed by 19 of the full panel of the 23 Grand Jurors. Of the four whose names do not appear, three were excused before the Grand Jury met and the fourth, L A Goddard was excused several days before the Grand Jury adjourned Gov Gibbs could desire no better more substantial endorsement than the voluntary testimonial of the Grand Jurors It was wholly unsolicited on his part, and it will be regarded by all good men as a merited vindication from the unjust innuendoes of his superior in office and the malignant accusations of the corruptionists in Oregon

THE BULLETIN'S DEFENSE

The Bulletin says Mr Gibbs was not removed from office for the faithful discharge of his duties but for gross disobedience of the orders of his superior, the Attorney General Why does not the ring organ, instead of making this bold assertion give the facts in the case It publishes the dispatch of the Attorney General directing Mr Gibbs to suspend proceedings in the bribery case until he should have reported the facts to the Attorney General but does not give the rest of the circumstances of the case It tells a part of the truth and withholds the rest, thus giving an utterly false impression When District Attorney Gibbs received this telegram from Attorney General Williams he did as he was directed—took no further proceedings till he had reported the facts to the Attorney General and sufficient time had elapsed for any further direction the Attorney General might desire to give in the premises to reach Portland and then not receiving anything further from the Attorney General, he proceeded with the prosecution as he had every reason to suppose he was expected to do and as it was clearly implied in the Attorney-General's dispatch that he should do Why did not the Bulletin publish this part of the truth Why did it conceal so much of the truth as to make its story an untruth in its effect Plainly because the whole truth would have shown its readers that the removal of Mr Gibbs was procured simply and solely on account of his faithfully prosecuting the corruptionists His removal was necessary to the security of the ring and it was accordingly determined upon Only by the most flagrant torturing of the facts can any other conclusion be reached, An officer who regards the faithful administration of the laws, the welfare of the country, the peace and good order of the community, or the obligation of his oath of office as paramount to the interests of the corrupt ring who buy and sell votes at the polls like sheep in the shambles is disqualified for official position in Oregon and his head must fall into the basket And then the organ of the ring is ready to concede one-half the facts and garble the other to blind the public mind to such abuses of power

MR BRUEN'S COMPLAINT

Mr W O Bruen Chief Engineer of the Fire Department sent to the Common Council at its last meeting a long and lachrymose complaint that the OREGONIAN had misrepresented him in regard to the keeping of the fire hydrants in order and taking proper precautions to prevent their freezing We said that Mr Bruen was guilty of inexcusable neglect of his duties and we say it again, and are ready and willing to undertake the proof of it whenever that functionary wants to go into the investigation. A specimen of the truthfulness of the statements contained in Mr Bruen's complaint may be seen in the following

> The series of charges contained in said article are wholly without foundation except in one particular—the bursting of the hydrant at the corner of Pine and Sixth streets Whether said hydrant was burst by freezing up or through some other agency, I am at present unable to ascertain The remaining hydrants I have carefully examined and find them in good condition Not one frozen up notwithstanding the OREGONIAN's assertion to the contrary

We had alleged that more than one of the hydrants had frozen up and burst, which Mr Bruen says is not true We personally called Mr. Bruen's attention to the one on Pine and Sixth streets and to another at No Two's engine house before we wrote a word about it These were both burst and they both had bleeders, so it was easy to have saved them One hydrant is too much to lose by the neglect of the officer who is paid to look after this matter. Further what we said about the wastage of water was true, and was not attended to for some days after we published the fact This we are prepared to prove

But here is the secret of all the trouble, which Mr Chief Engineer Bruen lets slip, as by accident, in his complaint

> I should have taken all necessary precaution to protect them had I thought there was any danger of them freezing but being satisfied that there was none, I did not deem it necessary to incur the expense of having them covered up

"If I had thought there was any danger" Exactly so Mr Bruen did not pay enough attention to his duties to know there was danger till the hydrants were already frozen up and destroyed "Being satisfied" there was no danger of the hydrants freezing he sat down by the fire and toasted his feet, on his nice little salary and lets the hydrants freeze and burst at a cost to the city of one hundred dollars each

The ring organ thinks the fact that the bribers were not indicted by the Grand Jury of the State Circuit Court, is sufficient ground for asserting that the prosecution of the bribers is without ground. Everybody living at or about Portland, understands the case in connection with that Grand Jury and there is no necessity for a recital of the facts here There is a straw however by which it is not difficult to see the direction of the breeze that blew that illustrious body of seven persons into existence One of the Grand Jurymen himself, according to his own statement was engaged on the election day in using money for electioneering purposes, paying from $2 50 to $5 each for the services of voters If this is denied we promise to give the name of the Grand Juror and of the witness to the charge

Mr W O Bruen Chief Engineer of the Fire Department in his manifesto against the OREGONIAN says he opened the bleeders of the fire hydrants so as to save the hydrants from being frozen or burst by the frost By this means several of the hydrants were saved If this had been done when the storm commenced as it was the Chief Engineer's duty to do without waiting for suggestions through the press, all would have been saved However something is gained when this officer is ready to profit by admonition Small favors thankfully received. Come again Mr W O Bruen Chief Engineer of the Portland Fire Department

Do men expend fortunes in politics in any legitimate way ?—Bulletin

This is just the question At the time John Hipple alias J H. Mitchell was a candidate for Senator before the Legislature he went to several members with personal appeals on the ground of sympathy saying he had spent $20 000 in making the fight for the position and would be utterly bankrupt unless he succeeded Do men expend fortunes in any legitimate way

The ring organ says we are at liberty to denounce the bribery and corruption of the ring Much obliged for this privilege it makes us feel decidedly more secure, We did not know but an order would be issued from Washington suppressing the OREGONIAN for denouncing the corruptionists

Mr Woodward rambled off from Memphis the other day with one hundred thousand dollars to which he had no legal right Some of his former friends are looking for him

The State and County Courts in New York city adjourned on the 6th inst out of respect to the memory of Judge Peckham who went down on the Ville du Havre

Subject— HAMLET

The character of Hamlet has always been considered as the most remarkable and inexplicable of the creations of Shakspeare's genius Many theories have been advanced to explain the Ghost Hamlet's insanity and his love for Ophelia Dr Marsh proposes to reconcile and elucidate these points in a purely original way derived from many years study of the play

To all lovers of Shakspeare and literature a rare treat will be offered as Dr Marsh is well known as a ripe scholar, and a man of solid and varied acquirements.

CITY.

STEAMER HENRIETTA—The little steamer Henrietta long owned by Capt Kellogg was sold a few days since at Sheriff s sale, at Oswego The price was $250 and the purchaser a Mr Nelson of this city The Henrietta was built some years ago at Oswego, and ran on the lake until lately Before the completion of the canal connecting Tualatin river and Oswego lake the Henrietta ran from the lower end of the portage down to the town Since the canal was finished the steamer has ascended the Tualatin to the highest point of navigation frequently and returned into the lake Mr Nelson after purchasing the craft, determined to bring her into the Wallamet and thence to this city Accordingly she was benched placed on rollers and without difficulty transferred from the lake to the river She arrived here on Wednesday evening and is lying at the upper saw mill We learn the object of bringing the Henrietta down is to employ her as a tug The machinery and boiler are said to be good for many years service but at present are out of repair Some repairs and overhauling will be necessary before the boat is ready for service The Henrietta is certainly one of the most homely unpoetical looking crafts which we have seen for a long time She is much smaller than the Minnehaha

REACHED IN SAFETY—Yesterday morning the O S N Co s boat Shoo Fly started down the river with the intention of proceeding if possible to Astoria in the hope of meeting the ocean steamer due here this evening Below St Helens, the river for some days has been choked with masses of floating ice and boats have not ventured beyond that point A considerable quantity of wheat was placed on board the Shoo Fly which was to be transferred to the ship Cultivator if Astoria was reached Yesterday evening a dispatch was received from Kalama to the effect that the Shoo Fly had succeeded in reaching there in safety The telegram also states that that a steamboat was seen below Coffin Rock but was too distant as to be unrecognizable Kalama is some 14 miles below St Helens From the former point down, the river is reported full of ice What success will attend the Shoo Fly after leaving Kalama cannot be conjectured with any degree of certainty It is thought by men accustomed to the river that at the present state of the weather the ocean steamer cannot ascend above Astoria If the Shoo Fly is unable to effect connection with the Oriflamme, it will be an unfortunate occurrence to the public and work great inconvenience

CAPT BAUGHMAN—This old and well-known steamboat man returned to the city a few days since Some years ago Capt Baughman had command of various steamers which ran on the waters of the upper Wallamet in opposition to the People s Transportation Co However after the opposition was bought off, or ceased Capt Baughman left for the Sound country and British Columbia For the last two or three years he has been engaged in boating on the waters of Fraser river Capt Baughman is at present employed by the W R T Co as captain and pilot Yesterday he left on the Gov Grover for the upper Wallamet For the present Capt Baughman will have command of that boat On the completion of the new steamer he will probably take charge of her He is an old, experienced steamboat man and a skillful pilot Having run on the waters of the upper Wallamet for a long time he is thoroughly conversant with the channel He will prove a valuable acquisition to the company

LEG BROKEN—Frank a little son of Mr E J Northrup, aged about 10 years had the misfortune to break his right leg while coasting on a sled on Thursday morning Several little boys, including Frankie, mounted a small sled near the corner of Seventh and Jefferson streets, and started down the steep grade Down Jefferson street the sled fairly shot over the frozen snow When Fourth street was nearly reached, the boys observed a drayman driving up that street The boys fearing a collision endeavored to turn the sled to one side, but were unable to do so. The driver became confused and stopped his horse Quick as thought the sled struck the dray wheel throwing young Northrup violently against one of the spokes, fracturing the right femur midway between the hip and knee He was taken home and the limb set by Dr E H Jones

STEAMER ONWARD—We learn that the owners of the steamer Onward have concluded to bring that boat from Oswego Lake down into the Wallamet river The distance from the edge of the lake next to the Wallamet down to that stream is very short By availing of the highest stages of water in both lake and river the portage can be made with but little trouble and expense High stages of water can be expected at any time immediately following the abatement of the present cold weather so that the Onward will probably be brought down into the Wallamet in the course of a month or so The object of thus transferring the boat is to place her on a new route According to present arrangements she is to run between Portland and the highest navigable points on the Tualatin

ST VINCENT DE PAUL SOCIETY—A fair given under the auspices of the above society and for the benefit of the same, will commence on Monday evening The fair will continue through Tuesday Wednesday and Thursday evenings The proceeds of the fair will be devoted to the erection of a hospital—a most laudable and charitable object Ladies who desire to assist at this fair are requested to meet the executive committee at Armory Hall on Monday morning at 10 o'clock to select tables and complete the general arrangements of the fair Members of the society not otherwise engaged are requested to assist in arranging the hall Monday afternoon A committee will be in attendance every day during the fair to receive donations of refreshments or fancy articles

FROZEN WITH ICE—A dispatch was received here yesterday morning from Martin s Bluff which stated that the ice at that point was one inch thick We learn that the ice across the Columbia opposite Vancouver is strong enough to bear persons From the dispatches up the Columbia we learn that the river is entirely closed from the Dalles down to Shell Rock Point, a distance of 30 miles A gentleman from Yamhill informs us that the river is frozen solid over and skaters can go any where over its bosom without danger The same gentleman states that the weather in that section of the country was so cold that chickens actually froze to death in considerable numbers

LOSING HER MIND—In alluding to Mrs C A Wilson of this city whose reason unfortunately has been slightly impaired and who is at present in the Asylum for treatment the [illegible] says Mrs Wilson a very estimable Christian lady who has been identified with our church interests in Oregon for more than a quarter of a century, lately returned from California We rejoice to say that although Mrs Wilson returned with her health of body and mind considerably impaired yet under the assiduous attention of loving friends and the constant advice of the most able and skillful physicians she is rapidly improving and will soon be herself again

ICE CARRIER.—We learn that Wells Fargo & Co dispatched a carrier yesterday morning to Astoria The carrier proceeded as far as St Helens on the [illegible] and from there took the trail down the river and made his way [illegible] toward Astoria At the present condition of the weather traveling either [illegible] or horseback is attended with much [illegible] and danger and is a slow means of transmitting mail matter What degree of success attends the efforts of the carrier remains to be seen

PUT BACK—The schooner Hera sailed from San Francisco for Portland on the 5th instant After getting nearly out of the heads she was compelled to put back in consequence of rough weather Two other sailing vessels which sailed at the same time were also obliged to return We are unadvised as to whether the Hera again sailed Doubtless she has gone to sea some days ago, and will soon be due here

A FINE HALL.—The large hall on the corner of Taylor and First streets built for the Ancient Order of Druids, will be finished off in the neatest style The carpets alone will cost $600 and when the room is finished about $2,000 will have been spent

SNOW BLOCKADE—As the river for some days has been closed to navigation below St Helens, there has been no mail connections between Portland and Astoria Early yesterday morning—6 30 A M—a mail carrier started from St Helens for Astoria By a telegram received late last evening it was learned that the carrier had succeeded in reaching Kalama at 4 45 o clock P M, after ten hours hard labor The distance is about 14 miles which would indicate that the carrier made very slow time

INSTALLED—At the annual convocation of Portland Royal Arch Chapter No [illegible] last evening the following officers were elected to serve the ensuing Masonic year Jno McCraken M E H P T B Gough K A G Walling S C H Lewis C of the H W W Francis P S Henry Saxer R A C Mark A King M 3d V A Roberts M 2d V J H Lappeus, M 1st V J C Ainsworth Treasurer B G Whitehouse Secretary A Vandusen Sentinel The officers were then duly installed

CAST IN JAIL—Yesterday forenoon a fellow known as Sullivan was discharged from the city jail having served out his term of confinement for vagrancy He had not been out more than two hours when he was arrested for stealing a piece of calico from the store of Franklin Bros on First street Detected in the act he broke and fled Chase was given and the thief overtaken and lodged in jail He will be tried in the Police Court this morning

DALLES MAIL—By dispatches it is learned that the mail carrier between this city and the Dalles arrived at the latter place last evening at [illegible] o clock having left here last Monday morning He will start with the return mail this morning One of the carriers who left the Dalles on Wednesday morning for Portland passed Rooster Rock yesterday afternoon He will probably arrive here this forenoon

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION OF DISTRICT NO 1

PORTLAND Dec 5 1873

To the Hon Board of Directors of the Portland Public School—GENTLEMEN In accordance with the provisions of a resolution passed by you November 25 1873 directing me to furnish statistics and general information concerning the schools under your charge I submit herewith the following report During our last vacation I met with the principals of the different schools and a course of instruction was agreed upon to take effect at the beginning of the present school year and to be carried out as rapidly as the standing of the pupils would admit Under this system of instruction and division of school labor each teacher has but one grade of pupils divided into two divisions while one division or class is reciting the other is preparing to recite One year is allotted to the pupils to perform the work of each of the six grades The first five months of the school year they are thoroughly drilled in the work assigned to the 2d division or class B then if they pass a good examination are promoted to the 1st division or class A of the same grade and after remaining five months in this class they will be examined prior to promotion to the next grade therefore in six years from the time a pupil enters the public schools he will be admitted into the high school providing he has been industrious and successful in passing every examination

A corps of active and efficient teachers working in harmony with the system already inaugurated will place our schools on a higher educational plane and make them comparable with the best schools of our country

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT

Printing writing phonetics natural science, drawing and oral composition are taught in all the rooms of this department in connection with the subject matter of the text books On Tuesday and Friday afternoons twenty minutes are spent in giving an oral lesson in natural science every effort being made to interest the pupil and to give him a taste for investigation This oral instruction will cover the three great kingdoms The phenomena of vegetation and animal life that the child sees daily, are made subjects of reflections and explanation The Numerical Frames and the Geometrical Forms and Solids are daily used with good results manifestly showing that this is money expended in the right direction Hooker s Child's Book of Nature, Calkin's Object Lessons and Warren s and Edwards Speller should be placed on the table of every Primary teacher Light gymnastics and various other exercises are often introduced during each session to change the regular routine of school labor and render the duties of the schoolroom less monotonous

INTERMEDIATE DEPARTMENT

As my duties were until November 3d limited to the Primary Department I have not had time to thoroughly examine the pupils in the other schools in ALL their studies yet I am fully satisfied that History Physiology and Natural Science should be daily taught and more time spent in the perusal of these branches than has been devoted to them in the past There are strictly elementary works on these topics well adapted to the age and capacity of the pupils in this Department

GRAMMAR DEPARTMENT

By a concert of action on the part of the Principals composition will be more successfully taught and as this is of paramount importance time and attention should be given to it as often as once a week Philosophy and physiology are introduced into the first grade Nothing of this kind is taught to the pupils of the second grade More time and attention should be given by the Grammar pupils to the perusal of all the branches enumerated in this and the intermediate grades While our pupils have been crammed to repletion with rules of arithmetic rules of parsing and lists of names in geography the whole natural world has been to them a comparatively sealed volume They have gone from school ignorant of physiology ignorant of botany ignorant of the wonders of the vegetable world ignorant of the animals by which they are surrounded —mere children in fact, in all which it concerns them most to know It is a lamentable fact that too little attention is paid to the history of the United States To fit and qualify the rising generation to discharge the duties of good American citizens is the end for which schools were established It is the duty of the Public Schools to inculcate love of country love of liberty and patriotism and to impart some knowledge of the duties rights, privileges and honors of an American citizen

The Prussians say that "whatever you would have appear in a nation s life you must put it into its schools" We must teach our children in the earlier and fresher days of youth to become brave and true and magnanimous

ATTENDANCE

The whole number of pupils attending the public schools exclusive of the High School is one thousand and thirty three with an average attendance of nine hundred and twenty six and a per cent of eighty nine and one half In accordance with this statement it is unmistakably evident that through an irregular attendance a fraction of more than one-tenth of the public money is uselessly expended and what is of far more importance one tenth of the time of those who should be benefited is utterly lost The evils of absenteeism and irregularity of attendance are among the most serious of any encountered in the administration of the public schools

The attention of all teachers and school officers ought to be turned to some remedy

The following table discloses the important fact that twenty two per cent of our pupils are in the grammar department and fifteen per cent in the intermediate while sixty-two per cent or over three fifths are in the primary schools We cannot attach too much significance to this department Here the seed thoughts are sown and if this is done properly and thoroughly it will bring forth an abundant harvest Let morality kindness attention promptness above all industry and an ardent desire to seek after knowledge be written upon those living tablets which shall endure until earth's eternal hills Train the child properly in the first three years that he is in school and it will be an easy and delightful task for the energetic teacher to assist him through the work of the other grades

The teachers of the different classes that were examined will testify to the correctness of the unparalleled record of their pupils in [illegible] grade as indicated in the following table The same examples were given to the classes of the corresponding grade The examination was thorough each pupil solving or attempting to solve his problem without any assistance The results of this examination clearly show that the pupils have a better theoretical knowledge of arithmetic than a practical one The result are cogent arguments in favor of [illegible] with information derived from principles and rules to that which is practical The practical man or woman always succeeds the theoretical, never

*Not examined in accordance with the wishes of the Teacher in charge

As the Principals have no complete School Register it is impossible to give the exact time consumed by all of the pupils in the different grades There is however quite a disparity in the length of time spent by some pupils in performing the same labor—chiefly caused by irregular attendance This is apparent from the reports of the Principals of the different schools which I submit to you for your careful consideration and inspection Each Principal should be furnished with a School Register substantially bound properly ruled and so divided as to show the name and age of each pupil the time of his entrance into school and each day of his attendance throughout the week month and term The number of pupils enrolled average number belonging average daily attendance, and per cent attendance imposing little labor on the teacher and removing all excuse for inaccuracy it would form a continuous record for the school for successive years It should be the duty of every assistant teacher to make out a monthly report complete in all its parts and hand it to the Principal for recording and thereby abolish the [illegible] s work plan.

TEACHERS

Our teachers as a general thing are doing a good work, and in most cases carrying out my suggestions in accordance with the tenth rule of "Teachers' Duties" found on page sixth of of the "Rules and Regulations for the Government of the Portland Public Schools"

There is a general disposition on the part of the teachers to carry out the wishes of the Directors in reference to the duties of the office of Superintendent I have been well pleased when visiting many of the schools, to find such good order and so much interest manifested by the pupils in their studies, and the teachers absorbed in the welfare of those under their charge I need not say these schools prosper If all were like some which I have visited, the masses would cling to them as the earth clings to its center and its beneficence would permeate every avenue of life

SCHOOL OFFICERS

In closing this report allow me to say that our school officers have exemplified praiseworthy conduct in advancing all school interests under their supervision For the present prosperous condition of the city schools much credit is due them S W KING Supt

A REMARKABLE SPEECH

HENRY WARD BEECHER ON CHURCH GOVERNMENT—ECCLESIASTICISM CONDEMNED—THE RECORD OF PLYMOUTH CHURCH—HINTS AT MR. BEECHER'S CREED

When the communication from certain Brooklyn Congregational churches was received inviting the pastor and members of Plymouth Church to a conference for the purpose of considering the exact denominational status of the latter church, Mr Beecher delivered the annexed speech which is thus spoken of by the N. Y. Tribune Mr Beecher stepped to the very edge of the platform and delivered perhaps the most fiery eloquent speech in vindication of the position of the Church and of himself in it, that ever before came from his lips for his sentences were uttered with the tremulousness of almost uncontrollable emotion, and his expressions were pointed and emphasized by the moisture which stood in his eyes all through his long effort and the tears which at times rolled down his cheek So intensely sympathetic were the tones of his voice which rose so high in the excitement of his sentences and quivered as they breathed the spirit of love and tenderness for the clergymen who had signed the communication that the vast audience were moved to tears and at the conclusion the wet eyes among his listeners were seen all over the hall

A GLOWING EULOGY OF PLYMOUTH CHURCH

We have a large number of mission stations and of mission schools; we have a larger work carried on by more men I will venture to say than any other ten churches in our order This church has gone through the great fight of temperance, and the yet greater fight of liberty, in dark times when other churches never lisped a word [Here the applause became so violent and prolonged that Mr Beecher paused and was compelled to wait for its subsidence] This church has been blessed of God with a peace in the midst of controversies that rocked this continent like an earthquake this church by the voice of the minister—pardon me if I am obliged to speak of myself—it is my life that I am speaking about [With tears rolling down his face] I thank God not only that he gave me strength and the means of speaking when my country was in peril and when principles dear to every country were imperiled, but more than that, he has given me the privilege of sending sermons to the old, to the sick, to neglected parishes, to huts and hovels—beyond the mountain and over the continent, and to the farthest missionary station on the globe and when I look at the work of Plymouth Church for the last twenty six years—not by me alone for I never could have done the work if I had not been sustained by my associates, by the deacons, by the Examining Committee, and the voluntary services of the men and women in the Church, and been supplemented and upheld on every side—I say whether for liberty, either for peace in the Church, for missionary labor at home or abroad, is it not such an example and such a testimony that we ought not to have been arraigned as damaging the churches around about us? I say it boldly in your name and I say it before God in my own name [Great applause]

And now as to the matter of discipline in this church I have been misunderstood in what I said at a former meeting I spoke briefly on the idea that my remarks would not have other application than to those who heard them I have said time and time again in your hearing that only those who are convinced by their profound sinfulness can come to the communion table no matter whether they are church members or not And that has been the ground on which I have stood at the door of the church and asked, 'Do you come because you are sinful and helpless—because you believe Jesus Christ has begun to help you? Do you come leaning on him in this Christian brotherhood?' That has been the ground on which men have come into this church When they have come in you know just as well as I know—and I make the statement, not as a boast, but you know I have had my own peculiar disposition and my own peculiar notion of administration Do you suppose a man can be a pastor of a church during a time in which its roll increased from 1,000 to nearly 3,000 members, which has spread its influence over the continent and the world, and himself have nothing to do with it and no influence in it? There has been an influence by me. I feel that no person came in in order to be under the pressure of my hand, so far as his interests were concerned I had the right to bring to bear upon him all love sympathy and wisdom, and that of my brethren, and that when he ceased to be benefited by our Christian sympathy and Christian influence, our labor in respect to him was gone Have I held that there ought never to be discipline? Yes, I have held there should be when a man unworthy of membership and living a scandalous life, stays in church that he may do mischief and damage the church—then I always hold that in such an extreme case discipline by authority should be exercised over such a man It is the law of self defense The right of self-defense is inherent in every individual man But it is not a right to be exercised except as a very last resort Ordinarily men don't need to defend themselves because the laws defend them In ninety nine cases out of one hundred moral influence is to be used and only in the hundredth case is the hand of the church to be lifted ecclesiastically upon a member If you say then that I have encouraged a loose and lax membership of the church I appeal to as pure and noble a body of working Christians as ever the sun shone on, and say it is not so

I will point you to scores of cases and show it is not so I say that in so great a church as this living together in peace the secret reason of it is, that instead of attempting to govern the church by machinery, ecclesiastical machinery, I have trodden it under foot [Mr Beecher stamped violently upon the ground], and attempted to govern the church by the influence of love and sympathy [Applause] But, now then I don't disguise from myself that to-day they feel aggrieved, and that in certain respects they feel that they are responsible for us We don't feel that they are but they think they are [Laughter] Now I say, and say it with all sincerity, if all these churches that feel so would withdraw fellowship from us, not as a punishment and not in disgust, but simply relieve themselves from any supposed responsibility that they have for their doctrine, discipline, or way, I should be very glad to have them do it. I would not want any church to feel that it is carrying a burden on our account that it does not know how to bear. It would make no difference to me or you, for God has made our church so large that we need not take any of the rain that runs off from their mill roof We have had our own abundance Our intercourse with them has been most cordial and sweet for my heart and will continue to be so whether they disown us or not, for you can hold men's bodies and manacle their wrists, but I will defy any man to find gold, silver or iron chains that were ever forged that can hold faith and love and I love and honor those brethren and I love those who work in the spirit of Christ, and though they cut me off a hundred times I shall be in fellowship with them and if they are not with me more is the pity for them [Applause] Brethren I freely admit there are some things in me that if I had been consulted in my making I would have had it different I am aware that my modes of thinking and expressions are not altogether normal and that I have not always followed the old channels in my modes of expression and thinking I have also felt that as standing in an independent church—I had a right to follow the nature that God gave me, after he well had asserted it by Christ I have followed my own particular nature and I have been a free thinker and have repudiated things that other people believed and have confirmed things that other people did not believe and I don't wonder that since my sermons are printed close to my heels every Sunday You cannot complain of old ones anyhow—not that there has been so much criticism but that there has not been more. I state, in respect to newspapers in the country at large considering what human nature is and what mere jealousy for their views is—I maintain that there has been so much charity and so much forbearance for this wanton and free speaking tongue of mine—wanton is the sense in which Milton uses the term

MR BEECHER BEARS HIS OWN BURDENS.

I would to God I stood on a platform so absolutely independent that every Christian church should say 'That is his utterance, and we are not responsible. I don't want the Baptists to be responsible for my notions of Millennium or Communion I don't want the Presbyterians to be responsible for my ideas of Church Government nor my ideas of the Westminster Confession of Faith nor do I want the Congregational Church of New England to be responsible for my ideas of the fall of Adam and original sin nor for my conception of the Atonement and therefore, I say again that although I may do no violence nor thrust myself out of the place where God put me it would be an infinite relief if I could stand on a platform where no man on earth was responsible for the things I said I don't think it is fair to put it on my brethren and let them bear all of the load but still, if they love it, let them do it I shall not live a thousand years longer; my work is not I feel far from done while I do live I have that one desire the [illegible] in my heart ever since I was a boy—I have loved my kind [Applause] I have loved man more than anything—that is except Him that redeemed men, and my whole nature goes out in that way When I am under the inspirations of these sympathies I care not what the clergy nor churches nor men think about it while I love men and I feel that I am beloved by them, I will not be turned aside from my work I will go on preaching as I have preached before fearlessly and freely and if God gives me a church to take care of I will attempt to govern that church by no management no machinery of government except that implied in the absolute existence of the Church itself I will govern it by making government unnecessary I will govern it by influencing men in such a way that they shall do the thing that is right I give you fair notice of my intention [Applause] I will attempt to put down ecclesiasticism here and everywhere as not in accordance with highest plan of Christian experience nor with the best interpretation of the New Testament nor with the dictates of the Holy Ghost as poured out upon the hearts of God's people everywhere and I now advocate the passage of those resolutions but not in any taunting spirit I would willingly take back some of the things said here to-night which were not agreeable to my ears or heart If you think I am one that would be pleased by denunciation of the men that inveighs against me, you don't understand me If you don't think I love those brothers after I have loved them all my life long, because at present they happen to be divided in judgment against me and with pain to themselves are opposed to what they think wrong in the church you don't understand me There is not a day nor an hour that I could not go to any man who ever lived on God's earth and take him before Christ with all sincerity and say By the love which I bear for this man be patient with him I live to love men, and though naturally I am a good hater, a good fighter yet I owe thanks to the blessed God that at last while old age is beginning to whiten my hair and here Mr Beecher's voice sunk to a tremulous whisper I can turn to all my fellow beings, and shining with one undiminished increasing disposition of sympathy, of helpfulness of patience, born of that love which is born of God and say 'Dearly beloved brethren of this church, keep me or let me go let me live or let me die living or dying I am the Lord's and desire to live in an atmosphere such as breathes from the very heart of God not in contentions and not in slaughters [Prolonged applause]

"What the veins and arteries are to the human system conveying the life current to all parts of the body the lines of transportation are to body commercial Those being clogged no healthy condition can exist in the human frame, and these being obstructed the activity in trade ceases This is having a partial illustration in our market at this time The closing of the Columbia preventing any movements of sea-going vessels all branches of business are suffering to a greater or less extent We hear serious complaint on all hands concerning the dull times, in trade circles something which might very naturally be expected under the circumstances, financial affairs however are reported to be in a tolerably good condition the banks having their resources well at command to meet the demands of their regular customers with a fair degree of readiness

We hear rumors on the street of the serious embarrassment of a prominent wheat buyer, which led to a meeting of his creditors this afternoon, but what conclusions were arrived at we are unable to learn

Defaulting Railroads.

The Financial Chronicle gives a list of the railroads in the United States that are in default on the interest on their bonds. They are fifty five in number and their aggregate bonded debt defaulted on amounts to $217,[illegible]311 which is about 13 per cent of the total railroad bonded debt of the country estimated at $1,700,000,000 The defaulting fifty five roads are made up of two classes—those paying roads which have been suddenly overtaken by the panic and obliged to suspend payment temporarily, and those unwisely located and costly roads built through sparsely settled regions which earn little or no profit over their operating expenses. The former will shortly recover from their temporary discredit the latter will many of them, have to be sold out A great many of these latter roads have been built almost entirely with the proceeds of bonds and have thus cost about one quarter to one third more than they would have cost if built with cash They represent nothing but their debts which are more than their assets—that is, more than the roads themselves are worth It is the large amount of capital invested in these non paying and almost worthless bonds that assists to aggravate the present stringency of money

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—There seems to be but very little doing in the market at present shippers being unable to reach their vessels and having considerable amount of the cereal in hand There is yet a very large amount—probably 1,200,000 bushels at least yet remaining in the various warehouses in the interior and in the hands of producers much of which will not reach here till the winter rains have raised the river There will be several ships here within a few days after the ice clears out of the Columbia Until that time we shall probably witness but few transactions In the meantime holders are firm at current rates $2[illegible] per cental

FLOUR—The home demand continues steady but of course no shipments are just now being made owing to the freeze and the supply consequently accumulates Some of our State mills are now reported running on short time Receipts here by rail have been well kept up We quote best brands of extra jobbing at $6 ⅌ bbl country and country brands $5@6, superfine $4 50, fine $4.

OATS—We receive from buyers quotations ranging from 4[illegible]c ⅌ bushel Very few lots are coming to hand as yet while the surplus of this Valley alone is probably not less than 1,000,000 bushel The home demand is barely supplied by present receipts at current rates

ONIONS—We notice by our telegrams from San Francisco that that market is as low as our own hence the demand here is limited to the local trade and dull at 1½@1¾c ⅌ lb

BACON—We notice a firm demand for all kinds though the supply of sides is [illegible] while there is some scarcity of [illegible] fiddlers The latter are quotable at [illegible] ⅌ lb hams [illegible] sides at 10@11c

DRIED FRUITS—There is a fair large lot offering by holders but shippers are [illegible] especially on apples which are dull [illegible] Plums freer sale at 14c ⅌ lb

POULTRY—The arrival of considerable numbers have supplied a want which was beginning to be felt in the market Prices however are steady We quote best lot of chickens grown $[illegible] springs and mixed lots $[illegible] turkeys [illegible] 15c lb geese $[illegible]

DRESSED HOGS—We note largely increased receipts for a few days past even beyond the demand of packers who are operating quite extensively Quotations are furnished at 6@6½c ⅌ lb
